RACE FUEL FACTS & INFORMATION

Today's new Cars, Trucks and SUVs are designed to use pump fuel with ethanol, however most small engines in Snowmobiles, ATVs, Dirt Bikes and Vintage cars and trucks are not.

High quality Race Fuel without ethanol is more expensive than commercial pump fuel, however you will receive the following benefits.

Advantages of using Sunoco Race Fuels: Sunoco Optima or Sunoco Surge:

- * Sunoco Race Fuels are NON-ETHANOL, Racing Products.
- * Approved for ISOC and CSRA racing by the Polaris, Arctic Cat, Ski-doo race departments.
- * You may run MORE laps using LESS fuel.
- * $10,000 Sunoco Race Fuel Contingency Program in effect for 2018-2020 race seasons.
- * Elevated octane for INCREASED detonation protection, may save expensive engine repair.
- * No additives needed, no attraction to water.
- * Multi season SHELF LIFE/storage ability.
- * HIGH level of Quality and Consistency for efficient tuning.
- * Provided in SEALED (5) us gallon containers or (55) us gallon drums.
- * Product AVAILABLE for Pre-Order, eliminate stops at stations to fill up.
- * Avoid UNWANTED lower octane pump fuel in commercial pump filling station lines.
- * POUR and GO! No need to mix gasoline and create a mess, only add oil for 2 cycle engines.
- * NO fuel system maintenance or draining of fuel at the end of the race season.
- * Great performance fuel for all your seasonal power equipment that requires seasonal storage, ATVs, Snowmobiles, Side x Sides, Boats, Generators.
- * Available for sale at select Powersports dealers and at CSRA and ISOC race events.
- * A specified race fuel rule helps to ensure a fair racing platform for all racers and helps to eliminate the illegal use of hazardous fuel additives.

Disadvantages of Commercial pump fuels with Ethanol when used in most Small Engines:

- * Ethanol can break down rubber seals within your engine.
- * Ethanol is heavier than race fuel, and therefore less engine response than race fuel.
- * Ethanol is a water based fuel, it may allow moisture into fuel lines freezing and corrosion.
- * Ethanol runs hotter than race fuel and may cause engine damage in high revving engines.
- * Ethanol is a solvent and it may deteriorate paint and some metals.
- * Ethanol mixed fuels may use up to 25% more fuel than race fuel.
